

Dr. Boardman graduated magna cum laude from Harvard College with a degree in Economics and then attended and graduated from the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, where he was elected into the Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Medical Society. He completed residency training in Orthopaedic Surgery at the University of Pittsburgh, serving as an Instructor in Orthopaedic Surgery during his sixth year there. Upon completion of a Fellowship in Adult Reconstruction/Shoulder & Elbow Surgery at Mayo Clinic, he joined the faculty at the Medical College of Virginia (now VCU School of Medicine). At VCU, Dr. Boardman has developed a robust Shoulder and Elbow service, and has held the rank of Professor since 2017. He has served the institution on numerous committees, including Chairing the Orthopaedic Quality Committee and acting as the Orthopaedic Wellness Ambassador to the Wellness Council.

Outside of VCU, Dr. Boardman holds memberships in AAOS, ASES, Medical Society of Virginia, Richmond Academy of Medicine, the Virginia Orthopaedic Society, the Mayo Elbow Club, and the Richmond Orthopaedic Club. He is a Founding Member of the Mid-Atlantic Shoulder and Elbow Society. He served on the Board of Directors of the Virginia Orthopaedic Society from 2005-2017, acting as President from 2009-2010, and represented the VOS on the AAOS Board of Councilors from 2011-2017. The VOS bestowed the Virginia Orthopaedic Career Award on Dr. Boardman in 2018.

Dr. Boardman enjoys spending time with his wife, Cherise, on their farm outside Richmond. They both love cooking, dining out, and attending concerts across the globe. Fresh and saltwater fishing are favorites as well when not chasing their kids to various activities.
