

Dr. Patrick Curry is an Orthopedic Spine Surgeon practicing in Helena Montana. He is Vice-Chair of the department of surgery, an AO Spine faculty member and Vice-President of the Montana Orthopedic Society. His practice includes degenerative disease, trauma and metastatic disease.

Dr. Curry was born and raised near Philadelphia. He attended the University of Scranton where he majored in Philosophy. After graduating he completed a year of service at St. Joe's Prep in Philadelphia, followed by a year of teaching at St. Michael in Window Rock Arizona. During his time in Arizona he fell in love with the mountain west.

After 5 years teaching high school he completed the Post-Baccalaureate Pre Medical program at University of Pennsylvania and attended Georgetown University School of Medicine. He completed his Orthopedic Surgery Residency at Thomas Jefferson University in Philadelphia. At Jefferson he was fortunate to work with Dr. Todd Albert, Dr. Alan Hilibrand, and Dr. Alex Vaccaro. He then completed the University of Utah Orthopedic Spine Surgery fellowship with Dr. Darrel Brodke and Dr. Brandon Lawrence.

Dr. Curry is committed to bringing evidence based, high quality spine care to Helena and the surrounding area.
