

Phil Mitchell is a current Orthopaedic Traumatologist at Vanderbilt University Medical Center in Nashville, Tennessee. He was raised in Knoxville, TN and attended Columbia University for his undergraduate education where he played football and majored in Biology. After attending Emory University School of Medicine, Dr. Mitchell completed his orthopaedic residency training at Vanderbilt. He then completed his Orthopaedic Traumatology Fellowship at University of Texas Health Science Center in Houston. His clinical interests include fractures of the pelvis and acetabulum, nonunions, periarticular fractures, and polytrauma. He also has an interest in graduate medical education.