“Trea” Norman H. Ward III, M.D., FAOA, FAAOS, is a pediatric orthopaedic surgeon and Assistant Professor at the Medical University of South Carolina. He completed his orthopaedic surgery residency at the University of Texas Medical School at Houston and a combined pediatric orthopaedic surgery fellowship at Duke University and the University of North Carolina. Dr. Ward currently serves as Clerkship Director for Orthopaedic Surgery at MUSC and as the American College of Surgeons Pediatric Orthopaedic Trauma Liaison for MUSC Shawn Jenkins Children’s Hospital. Education and mentorship have been central throughout his career, with leadership roles focused on medical student education, curriculum development, and mentorship of students pursuing orthopaedic surgery. Nationally, he has contributed as a lecturer, moderator, and curriculum author for many online education resources. His academic interests include pediatric trauma, fracture care, and advancing orthopaedic education.