Shafic Sraj, MD, MBA, CPE is the director of Orthopedic Surgery for Valley Health System-VA and an Adjunct Professor of Orthopaedic Surgery, West Virginia University. Dr Sraj Obtained his medical education and orthopedic residency at the American University of Beirut, completed three fellowships in Hand, Upper Extremity, and Sports Medicine. He later pursued a master's in business administration and earned his Certified Physician Executive designation by the American Association for Physician Leadership. Dr Sraj is the Past President of the West Virginia Orthopedic Society and the West Virginia State Medical Association and served as the founding director of Physician LEADS WV, WVSMA's physician leadership development program.

Clinically, Dr Sraj is an established authority in wide wake local anesthesia no tourniquet (WALANT) hand surgery and In Office Surgery. He won the Top 3% and Top 1% Avant-garde Health Research All-Star awards for 2024 and 2025 respectively in addition to the American Association for Hand Surgery 2027 Lean and Green Award.